Table 1

LOW PRIORITY	MEDIUM PRIORITY	HIGH PRIORITY
Low priority due to it being optional.
Should be done with the career module by now, but look through again to watch any videos or read any articles
		High in priority due to the amount of time and points, and also that it is due on Thursday
	Not too many points and not very time consuming but still important and due on Friday.
	May take a little time but looks exciting. Due Friday
		High due to amount of work and points. Due Saturday!
	Don't forget to log the times for assignments!
	*Prioritizing was decided by the amount of points, when the assignment is due, and the amount of time that will go into each.
	Low priority due to it being optional. Should be done with the career module by now, but look through again to watch any	Low priority due to it being optional. Should be done with the career module by now, but look through again to watch any videos or read any articles Not too many points and not very time consuming but still important and due on Friday. May take a little time but looks exciting. Due Friday Don't forget to log the times for assignments! *Prioritizing was decided by the amount of points, when the assignment is due, and the amount of time that	Low priority due to it being optional. Should be done with the career module by now, but look through again to watch any videos or read any articles High in priority due to the amount of time and points, and also that it is due on Thursday Not too many points and not very time consuming but still important and due on Friday. May take a little time but looks exciting. Due Friday High due to amount of work and points. Due Saturday! *Prioritizing was decided by the amount of points, when the assignment is due, and the amount of time that	Low priority due to it being optional. Should be done with the career module by now, but look through again to watch any videos or read any articles High in priority due to the amount of time and points, and also that it is due on Thursday Not too many points and not very time consuming but still important and due on Friday. May take a little time but looks exciting. Due Friday High due to amount of work and points. Due Saturday! Don't forget to log the times for assignments! *Prioritizing was decided by the amount of points, when the assignment is due, and the amount of time that	Low priority due to it being optional. Should be done with the career module by now, but look through again to watch any videos or read any articles High in priority due to the amount of time and points, and also that it is due on Thursday Not too many points and not very time consuming but still important and due on Friday. May take a little time but looks exciting. Due Friday High due to amount of work and points. Due Saturday! Don't forget to log the times for assignments! *Prioritizing was decided by the amount of points, when the assignment is due, and the amount of time that